

SINGERS ON SAFARI -- A mighty hunter, a surfer dude, a ghetto-blaster-toting Rasta and a robed gentleman short on vision but long on singing talent invaded the Elk Point Community Choir's Spring Concert Sunday evening, in search of one tired, tiny lion. The thump of African drums accompanied their unique rendition of "The Lion Sleeps Tonight." Only the lion was sleeping -- the rest of the audience was too busy laughing.

"Fun and Furry" horse show attracts over forty riders

Sunday April 27th was a beautiful day for the first training Horse Show of the season, the Tall Horse Saddlery Fun and Furry, which was held at the Elk Point Ag Society Livestock Division Arena. Although it was very hard to find a furry horse, everyone had lots of fun.

The judge for the day was Dale Huber of Wetaskiwin and all the prizes were sponsored by Duane Warren of the Tall Horse Saddlery of Edmonton. There were a full range of Western and English classes with Junior and Senior Categories. There were a total of 42 competitors, a good turnout for the first show. High Point Champion gift certificates were awarded to Ashley Larson riding Tivio for the Junior 17 and under Division. High Point Senior was awarded to Rhea Dallaire riding J.M. Sandancer. In reserve were Lana Graham riding Dakota Sunset in the 17 and under and Joyce Larson riding Tivio for Senior 18 and over.

Louise Clement riding Snowflake was awarded the Furriest Horse prize sponsored by Critters Pet and Livestock Feed and Supplies of Elk Point. The door prize sponsored by the Ag Society was won by Renita Osinchuk.

Placings are as follows:

"Showmanship" Junior 13 & Under - Lana Graham, Danielle Schnurer, Tara Campbell, Joan Wheat, Renita Osinchuk, Megan Proski.

Junior 14-17 - Amanda Ferris, Ashley Larson, Shawn Mudryk, Amanda Ferris, Jamie Schnurer, Lisa Farkash

Murphy Oil back in production

Murphy Oil Company Ltd. outlined their new primary recovery scheme involving a nine-section block of land in the Ferguson Flats area at an open house last Wednesday in that community.

The Alberta Energy and Utilities Board has granted approval for central pad drilling on a 20 acre spacing, and 48 wells are to be drilled over the next year, bringing expected production to 320 cubic meters per day by the end of 1997. Murphy also holds the mineral rights to an additional 16 sections and amendments to increase the scope of the present project are likely.

Murphy presently operates ten wells within the 9-section block, and are planning an infill-drilling program for four of these sections, where approximately 30 central pad locations have been identified. This year's operations will concentrate on sections 32 and 33 of 57-5-W4M, with two drilling and production pads on each quarter section. Each pad will have four wells which will be directionally drilled with a conventional drilling rig.

The open house gave landowners in the area an opportunity to express their concerns, including those involving transportation of the oil and other products. Clean oil from the tanks at each pad site will be trucked to either Elan Energy's battery or Murphy's Dulwich terminal south of Lloydminster. (Continued on Page 2)

Lions Club to host annual Journey for Sight

Elk Point and District Lions Club members and other volunteers will embark on their annual Lions Journey for Sight on Saturday, May 10 to raise funds to help the blind, the sight-impaired and those who might someday lose the precious gift of sight.

Millions of people have been helped to date by the Lions' sight programs. Your generous pledge will help this worthy cause. For more information, or to make a pledge, call Jerry Kopeck at 724-4165.

JUNIOR HIGH POINT WINNER Ashley Larson was congratulated by Dwayne Warren of Tall Horse Saddlery.

JUST WHERE ARE THOSE WELLS GOING, ANYWAY? --
Area resident Mildred Dunham and a Murphy representative check out the map showing which sections are involved in the new drilling project.

Murphy Oil in production

Sand, water and emulsions will be trucked to Murphy's Lindbergh thermal project site for further handling. Approximately one and a half miles of road will be built or upgraded on an existing county road allowance for the main entrance to the project area.

Murphy is currently evaluating the construction of a primary oil treating plant to be built at the Thermal Plant, as well as a tie-in to the nearby Husky Cold Lake pipeline. This would permit both thermal and primary heavy oil production to be treated at the thermal project site, thus reducing the amount of traffic on Murphy Road and Secondary Highway 646.

Murphy Oil was one of the first oil companies to work in this area, where they have had holdings since the early 1970s.

We are looking for descendants of early settlers

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

The Canada Day Committee for Elk Point, after stating the 1997 theme will be "90 Years of Settlement," is now looking for those people who are descendants of early settlers in our Elk Point area. We would like to be able to recognize these people in a special way. So, if you know of someone who is a descendant or if you know that you are a descendant, please contact Deanna Easthope at the FCSS Office at 724-3800.

The people who first settled the Elk Point area were people who came here 90 years ago, broke the land and established their homes. We would like to acknowledge who they were and remember them.

MOTHER'S DAY IS

Because of all the changes in our community, the FCSS Offices, with the help of our volunteer, Rebekah Peterson, has been contacting all the clubs and organizations to learn the names of the contact people. We would like to thank "Becky" for volunteering her time to make all of these phone calls. The next step is to put all of this information on the computer and into our "Community Directory." This Community Directory will be available to anyone who would like one. Just stop by at our office. New people to our community will receive one in our "Welcome Wagon" Package. ... By the way, if you are new to Elk Point, have you called the Elk Point FCSS to get information about our community? Our phone number is 724-3800 and our office hours are 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday to Friday. We are located in the old building beside and south

Enough hockey
— on with soccer and baseball!

By Doug Bassett
Sports Reporter

Dallas is not the only ones who have stars. I saw a few of my own after receiving a "souvenir" (requiring stitches) from Boris Miornov at the Oiler game on Sunday, April 27, and therefore missed Monday's deadline last week. Like my buddy Don Cherry has always said, "watch the game," even if it hasn't started yet!

It looks like the Oilers, Canada's only team left in the playoffs, will need more than just CuJo in this series, to stop the Avalanche from covering them. Let's hope they can come back and win two at home.

Hey, did you hear the big news about the Russians the Leafs just picked up as free agents? I think their names were Teeoff and Summeroff.

OK, that's enough hockey, now let's take a look at soccer. The Elk Point soccer club with 120 children registered is the fastest growing sport in Elk Point and possibly in Canada. It's a simple game that is fun for boys and girls of all ages, and requires very little as far as equipment. The teams will play mostly on Mondays and Wednesdays. Most of the coaches are in place, but there is a desperate need for referees. The under-9 group will attend a mini tournament in St. Paul and under-11 to under-17 will compete in the Lakeland Cup in Vermilion on June 20 to 22. The windup party is planned for June 30 at Stoney Lake. Also starting in mid-May is adult co-ed soccer on Thursday nights at 8 p.m. Come on out for some fun and exercise.

This year with the increased interest, the club has plans in place to build two new regulation pitches. Thanks to the companies for their donations toward new goal posts: Elan Energy for the pipe, B & R Eckels for transporting it, Reid's Welding for the fabricating and to Ron Fraess and the Town of Elk Point for surveying the pitches. Elk Point Soccer Club would also like to thank the community for their generous donations that total $1500 to date.

In other local sports, baseball season will open this week with most of the teams playing. The bantam boys are hosting two home games at the north hill diamond on Tuesday night against Goodfish and on Thursday night they will take on Bonnyville. The midget boys open up on Thursday night when they host Wainwright out at the new midget field at the rec grounds. Then on Sunday, the midgets will travel to Goodfish to play a double header.

Proclamation: Canada Health Day

Whereas Canada Health Day, co-sponsored by the Canadian Public Health Association and the Canadian Healthcare Association, provides a focus each year for celebrating the partnership that exists between consumers and health care facilities and agencies across the country, and

Whereas Canada's health care system is undergoing a process of renewal, including fiscal restraint and restructuring, which calls for new partnerships among providers of care and the community, and

Whereas Canada Health Day encourages a renewed sense of partnership between consumers, health agencies and governments to meet the challenges of the 21st century together, and

Whereas the 1997 theme,
"Focus on Community Health," which highlights a broader view of health and health care as an emerging concept and one that allows for greater community and individual involvement in defining health goals,

Whereas Canada Health Day has come to be recognized as one of Canada's premier events focusing attention on our health care system and helping health units and community health organizations establish links and share visions of health and health care with their local communities,

Therefore be it resolved that I, Ed Buck, Mayor of Elk Point, do hereby proclaim May 9, 1997 Canada Health Day in Elk Point, Alberta.

Diabetes - a new way of eating

By Shelley Miller-Hertes
Registered Dietitian
Elk Point Health Centre

A diagnosis of diabetes often means learning a whole new way of eating. A diabetic should discuss his/her eating habits with a Registered Dietitian, and together, they can come up with an individualized eating plan to control diabetes.

Here are a few basic guidelines to get you on your way to healthy eating and diabetic control.

(1) Eat less sugar. Avoid eating sugar and foods high in sugar, such as chocolate candies, condensed milk, honey, jams, jellies, molasses, regular soft drinks, tonic water, syrup, sugar (all kinds), pastries, iced cakes.

(2) Eat at least 3 meals a day. Eating 3 meals and 3 snacks daily is even better.

(3) Watch serving sizes. A meat portion the size of a deck of cards is suggested. 1/2 a cup is the general amount for dairy products, fruits, and vegetables. Lowfat whole grain products are excellent source of energy and should be included in the diabetic diet.

(4) Eat about the same time each day. DO NOT SKIP MEALS OR SNACKS.

(5) Increase your intake of dietary fibre by choosing whole grain products, legumes, fruits, and vegetables.

(6) Eat less fat. Use cooking methods that help remove excess fat, choose lean meat, fish, and poultry. Avoid fried foods and high fat foods.

(7) Do not drink liqueurs, sweet wines, and sweet drink mixes (eg. regular pop). Choose diet pops with Nutrasweet. Alcohol intake may be acceptable in small amounts and if taken with a meal. Ask your doctor or dietitian for more meal information on alcohol and diabetes.

(8) Try to reach and maintain a reasonable weight. Your diabetes will be easier to control if you do.

(9) Exercise is very helpful in controlling blood glucose levels. Include a daily dose of exercise.

If you wish to discuss diabetic eating with a Dietitian. You can reach me at 724-3847 Wednesdays.

Palliative Care expanding in Elk Point

By Carolyn Onusko
Palliative Care Committee member

The Dying Person's Bill of Rights states, I have the right to be cared for by caring, sensitive, knowledgeable people who will attempt to understand my needs and will be able to gain some satisfaction in helping me face my death.

Our Palliative Care group held their first meeting October 11, 1994. Members present were: Lois Ramer, Isabel Myshaniuk, Helen Brodwin, Irene Lindquist, Gloria Berg, and Carolyn Onusko. Lucille Povaschuk and Helen Moneta were volunteer names which were soon added.

The furnishing and opening of a Palliative Care room were high on our list.

Barb Kaufman, the new co-ordinator of our Health Care

Centre, attended our meeting of June 19, 1995. Jean McGinnis joined us, October 1995.

A brochure and client information booklet were developed and distributed to the community.

Official opening of the Palliative Care room was held October 23, 1995 with an open house from 2 to 4 p.m.

Nursing supervisors: Colleen Simon, Genny Shmyr, Patti Pitman-Fisher, and Pam Ballas have also attended our meeting. Betty Poitras attended our meeting of April 12, 1996 as a new member. Diane Davidson joined us November 1, 1996.

The St. Paul Palliative Care group joined us for a Potluck dinner in December of 1996. Nice to have the interaction with other groups for sharing of ideas and support.

We have had two successful "Tree of Hope" fund raisers. At present we have completed a room expansion so family will be more comfortable.

Palliative Care week is May 11-17. If you or anyone you know would be willing to join our group please contact our volunteer co-ordinators, Jean McGinnis. Other committee members include: Betty Poitras, Isabel Myshaniuk, Barb Kaufman, Pam Ballas, Carolyn Onusko, Diane Davidson, and Lucille Povaschuk.

The opening of our expanded room will be held Thursday, May 15 with a memorial held and tea from 2 - 4 pm at the Health Care Centre. Everyone welcome.

Elk Point, SD escapes major flood damage

The latest word from Elk Point, South Dakota shows that community escaping major flood damage from the Big Sioux River and keeping a watch on the Missouri River as the Gavins Point Dam increased the amount of water released.

The Big Sioux crested April 9 in Akron, Ohio with the third highest water ever recorded. Only the crests of 1969 and 1993 were higher. The crest was 6.7 feet above flood stage at that point. Three low lying homes east of Elk Point were cut off by the rising water, and one family had to evacuate. Water covered parts of one highway and closed another.

The water released by the Gavins Point Dam is not expected to cause any problems.

The spring meltwater is not the only problem to evolve from the winter's severe blizzards. The South Dakota Legislature has approved a temporary 3-cent hike in the state's gas tax to pay for expenses incurred to the state by the blizzards and floods.

And now, for a little variety in the weather, South Dakota is observing Spring and Summer Severe Weather Awareness Week, with a state-wide tornado drill.

Curry Seed is getting ready to supply farmers for the 62nd consecutive year. Curry's chairman, Ed Curry is the son of the founder, and his sons are the president and vice president of the company. The Currys raise seed corn on 3000 acres, including family owned and rented land and eight contract growers. The plant employs between 20 and 25 full time workers. Some of the employees are members of three generations of three families, the Frenches, the Irwins and the Charbonneaus, have worked at the company during its history.

A new approach to learning may be put into use in the Elk Point area, with a move to block scheduling. Under this method, at least part of the daily school schedule is organized into larger blocks of time (more than 60 minutes) to allow flexibility for a diversity of instructional activities.

The City of Elk Point and the Elk Point - Jefferson School Board are discussing the future of a proposed joint city and school community library. The present 1500 square foot Elk Point Community Library was built in 1984 and the two schools have combined library space of 1400 square feet. The proposed building would have 7600 square feet of library area and classrooms, and would have ample room for 24,000 books. Those for the proposal say the joint facility would allow more public use hours, and better access to computer information.

Those who worked hard to raise funds for the present library are against the plan. The Library Board say they need more time and details, while a spokesperson from the Friends of the Library says the project makes sense.

Michael Schmitz and Ron Hoffman won the seats in the school board election early in April, while incumbent Brian Larson won the Ward 3 Council seat by a large majority.

Elk Point has a new Lutheran pastor. Rev. Mary Feistner was ordained in 1981 and has served at churches near Minot, North Dakota and in Minnesota.

Elk Point also has a new doctor on a part time basis. Dr. Jolynn Bugbee comes to Elk Point from Vermillion twice a week to see patients at the community health clinic.

Elk Point City Council has set dates for open burning, in the week of April 26 to May 4, and extended their landfill hours for that week as well.

The city recently adopted a 20 year comprehensive plan for growth, incorporating new residential development, industrial development, neighborhood commercial and multi-family residential development. Elk Point has grown from 1423 people in 1990 to 1623 in 1996, and growth is expected to continue over the next 20 years to a projected "low end estimate" of 2366 for the year 2017.

Street reconstruction, new water lines and a new water tower are needed to cope with the growth, and a new sewer lift station is being considered. The city's 36 inch storm sewers should be increased in size, or an additional storm sewer added.

School golf teams are hitting the links with numerous tournaments planned, but track meets have been postponed due to wet weather.

MOM DESERVES THE VERY BEST

Interagency Health Committee holds inaugural meeting

Elk Point's new Interagency Health Committee is off to a good start, with an even dozen on hand for their first meeting, April 25. Another four sent regrets and Chairman Jim MacLellan noted that the day and time may have prevented an even larger turnout. The group may make changes to these at the next meeting, May 20. "I hope everyone will make every effort to join us. Someone has said, 'All's well that ends well.' Perhaps it could be better stated that 'all's well that begins well.' This was a tremendous start."

Sid Holthe presented ideas

on the future direction of the IHC.

An exercise was conducted to assess the issues and goals present among the participants. Four issues were expressed, with the fourth of these reflecting an overwhelming consensus. Greater communication between health providers with a needs assessment, health prevention initiatives and funding, seniors housing and care were all important, but all agreed that the prime issue is the viability and longevity of the Elk Point Health Centre.

Possible approaches suggested to address this issue included communication with the Regional Health Authority, political pressure, public awareness, synergizing with current recommendations, examining future needs and presenting proactive recommendations, and increasing the number of medical doctors and service.

MAINSTREETING -- Reform candidate Leon Benoit was out mainstreeting in Elk Point last Thursday, checking out the concerns of local residents. Here he chats with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johns.

TWO! COUNT THEM, TWO CHORUSES -- The ladies and men each performed one number on their own at the concert.

Elk Point Community Choir winds up another busy season

Elk Point Community Choir brought another year of memories and enjoyment to an end Sunday and Monday evenings, with excellent crowds on hand for their seventh annual spring concert, which was dedicated to the memory of four choir members and former members who have passed away during the year: Doreen Rath, Tammy Gottenbos, Shirley Osinchuk and Norm Hartley.

The choir, currently numbering approximately 50 members, started off the evening as a group with "Touch the Wind," with featured soloist Barb Buryn. "All I Ask of You" from Phantom of the Opera was second on the list, with Lesley Rebryna at the piano. Another operatic number, "If I Were A Rich Man," from Fidler on the Roof, wound up the set before the men left the stage to the ladies, who sang an English folk tune, "The Gift of Love."

Guest singer Myrtle Johnson joined the Choir's Shirley Osinchuk in a gospel number, "God's Choir in the Sky," accompanied by Sarah Osinchuk on piano.

Charlie Thomson performed a choir first, whistling a medley of colorful tunes such as "Greensleeves" and "Red Wing."

The nattily-dressed Choir Quartet, Don Conrad, Don Buryn, Garry Townsend and Udo Mueller, stepped out in barbershop-striped vests to sing "Just One Star," accompanied by Barb Buryn.

Another quartet, this time flautists Jeannine Lebreque, Heather Krupa, Laurie Keichinger and Harlen Green, played a Russian folk tune, "Here Is A Fish Fat and Fine," and the ever-popular "The Entertainer."

Vocal soloist Cheryl Kurash, with Celine Dion's "Because You Loved Me," paved the way for the return of the choir.

The male members were back on stage first, with "The Ballad of Santa Ana," and were joined by the ladies for an a capella version of "O Christ, Come and Dwell Within," a minstrel song entitled "Ching-A-Ring Chaw," and an American Civil War folk song, "Shenandoah," featuring a solo by Shane Rebryna.

The 1997 winners of the Choir Bursary Program were announced at the end of a brief intermission. Orlene Bowman of Dewberry and St. Paul student Kelsey Mueller, who starred as Cosette in the Choir's production of Les Miserables, each will receive a $200 bursary.

The second section of the concert began with a solo by Jill Hartley, who sang "Sunrise, Sunset" from Fidler on the Roof, accompanied by Gabe Bayduza.

A most unusual quartet (a quintet if you count their little furry friend) was next on the program, with a mighty hunter, a ghetto-blastertoting Rasta, a surfer dude and a robed gentleman somewhat dim in vision coming on stage to continue their safari. This was reputed to be the Choir Quartet seen earlier, although these singers of "The Lion Sleeps Tonight" bore little resemblance to that tidy foursome. Shelby Mueller was the sleepy lion.

Cindy Amalia's vocal solo, "Find Us Faithful," was accompanied by Ruth Snyder on piano.

A very special addition to the program was a flautist of some renown. Harlen Green of Dewberry has played with the Edmonton Symphony and with Henry Mancini, who was himself a flute player. Green played two Mancini numbers, "The Pie in the Face Polka" from The Great Race, and "Penny Whistle" (played on a penny whistle) from The Molly McGuires. He was accompanied by Lesley Rebryna in both numbers.

The choir's final set clearly showed their adaptability to various music styles, as they went from Elvis Presley's "Can't Help Falling In Love," with Barb Buryn at the piano, to the information-laden "Heart of the Fugue," to show tune "Count on Me" from Waiting to Exhale (Shane Rebryna at the piano), to an African Psalm, featuring special touches by Patricia Keichinger, Linda Peters, Shane Rebryna and Udo Mueller.

Conductor Don Buryn expressed thanks to the audience, the choir, pianist Deanna Easthope and page turner Melissa Easthope. Mrs. Easthope accompanied all numbers except those otherwise noted. Buryn wished farewell on behalf of the choir to Jill Hartley, who is moving to eastern Canada and will be very much missed.

The choir's final number expressed their philosophy, that things will be all right "As Long As I Have Music." A standing ovation brought forth an encore, "What A Wonderful World," played by Barb Buryn.

CHOIR SCHOLARSHIP -- Barb Buryn presented the Community Choir bursary to Kelsey Mueller, who played Cosette in Les Miserables.

RENOWNED FLAUTIST - Harlen Green of Dewberry entertained with two Henry Mancini compositions.

Review collecting for flood victims

The Elk Point Review is joining other weekly newspapers across the province to help the victims of the disastrous floods in southern Manitoba. Donations of clothing, bedding, household items and other necessities may be dropped off at the Review office. Cash donations may be made through our local banks.

Canada Day committee inviting former residents to come home

Elk Point's Canada Day celebrations will salute 90 years since the community was founded, and the committee planning the event is hoping that some of the descendants of the early settlers will be on hand for the event. Former residents are also being invited, and a special invitation is being sent to the residents of Elk Point, South Dakota, which legend has it, was the source of our community's name.

Plans for the event are progressing well, with the same basic format as previous years. The parade route will remain the same, and a band from 4 Wing, Cold Lake will be part of the parade. Prizes for the kids' bicycle parade are already being readied for the event.

The Canada Day Committee now has commemorative t-shirts available at a price of $15 each, and may now be purchased at the FCSS Office as well as being available at the souvenir booth on Canada Day.

The Canada Day Committee will meet again May 8.

Shop smarter for good nutrition

By Laurette Phimester
Registered Dietician, Lakeland
Regional Health Authority

You want to eat healthy. You know all the right foods. The problem arises when you go to the grocery. All those labels can be confusing. All you want is something that is lower in fat and actually tastes good. There are many foods that fit that description.

When shopping for groceries you should shop the perimeter of the store first. The perimeter of the store contains the least processed foods. These are usually the ones that are lower in fat, sodium and calories. These sections usually include fruits and vegetables, dairy products, breads and grains, and meats.

Choose the lower fat items. On labels, a good rule of thumb is to look at the serving size to see if it's realistic. Then look at the total calories and the total grams of fat. On average you should have no more than 3.3

grams of fat per 100 calories/energy for a reasonable serving. Some foods will have more, some will have less. The idea is to balance your at to around 30% of your total calories.

Don't be deceived by the claims on the labels. Light can mean lighter in color, texture, flavor, sodium or calories. If a product is 50% reduced fat but had 100% fat to begin with, it's still a high fat product but may be a better choice than the regular product.

For claims on cholesterol a simple rule is that if it never had a liver it never had cholesterol. A vegetable product fried in vegetable oil never had cholesterol to begin with, but it's still high in fat. A diet high in fat will raise your cholesterol.

Choose a variety of foods from your food groups. There are no good foods and no bad foods. It's best to balance your diet and exercise for a healthy lifestyle. For more information on a shopping store tour, contact your local dietician.

What's news at the library?

Friends of the Library donate $10,000 in bingo revenue

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

The Friends of the Elk Point Library closed off their fiscal year by donating $10,000 in bingo earnings to the library. This money represents a significant part of the library's budget and the efforts of this small, but dedicated, group of individuals should be appreciated by everyone who uses the library. If you see someone you know is a member of the Friends of the Library, thank them for the contribution they have made to our public library. (Give them a hug, buy them dinner, offer a hot stock tip, etc...) On behalf of the library and its Board, I would like to thank the Friends for their fundraising efforts.

Right now the Friends of the Library are in need of new members. It is getting increasingly difficult to find enough people to work the five bingos they get each year. If this situation continues, the Friends may have to give up their bingos and the library will lose a major source of funding. What this means for library users is fewer purchases of new books and other materials for the collection, less supplies to support programs such as Storytime and the Summer Reading Program and perhaps a scaling back of library hours.

Now, I know that everyone is very busy and the demands made upon all of us by the various organizations we belong to and participate in are enormous (I think Elk Point has to be the Volunteer Capital of Canada and the demands multiply for each child that you have) but if you feel that the library is important then perhaps even one evening or afternoon of your time a year to work a bingo to help support the library can fit into your schedule. Talk to Michele about joining the Friends of the Library.

Hot off the presses are these sizzling best-sellers: A footwear manufacturer acquires a house he feels is more suited to his new station in life only to find that the butler feels differently in The Upstart by Catherine Cookson.

Kate Henry returns to her hometown of Indian Head, Saskatchewan and encounters murder and mayhem at a reunion of the All-Girls Professional Baseball League in the Battlefords in Prairie Hardball by Alison Gordon.

Birds of Prey by Wilbur Smith is a novel of adventure on the high seas set during the naval war between the Dutch and the English in 1667.

A rock star is attacked and almost killed in his hotel room and security expert Delaney Wescott is called in to deal with the matter in Illusions by Janet Dailey.

Planet of Twilight: A Star Wars Novel by Barbara Hambly finds Leia held hostage on a remote, desolate world; Luke coming to her rescue, only to find that any use of the Force has deadly consequences; and a plague threatening the fleet of the New Republic as they battle lingering remnants of the Empire.

IN MEMORIAM

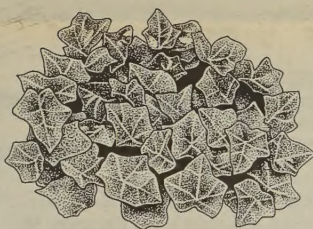

ZAROWNY, Elizabeth
In loving memory of my wife, mother and grandmother, who passed away May 10, 1996.

I remember the day I met you
And the day God made you mine.
I remember the day He took you away
I will 'til the end of time.
But through all the tears and heartaches
This is one thing that makes me glad
That you chose me to share with you
Those precious years we had.
My lips cannot tell you how I miss you
God alone knows how much I miss him.
In a home that is lonesome today.
Your smile is gone forever, your face I cannot touch
Still I have my precious memories
I love you so very much.
Your memory is my keepsake with which I'll never part
God has you in His keeping, I have you in my heart.
Forever loved and never forgotten.

Remembered with love, Joe & Family.
